PICKENS, S. C.

MARCH 26, 1914.

Entered at Pickens Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter

GARY HIOTT, MANAGER

The Sentinel is not responsible for the views of its correspondents.

However, the ladies will continue to wear shoes.

The time draws near, we blithely wait, to greet the sweet old candidate.

The Lancaster News says a little dragging now and then makes roads where mud holes long have been.

Greenville was all swelled up one day last week just because it had J. B. Duke and Fairfax Harrison as visitors the same day.

"If my friends want me in the race for U. S. Senate they must say so," says John Gary Evans. In other words, "Somebody please ask me to run."

The Industrial Workers of the World are disturbing. They have now broken up "General" Kelley's mob of "peaceful" hoboes in California.

Pickens county is coming to the front. It is furnishing bank examiners and circuit judges.—Tugaw.—Tribune. What it takes to be at the front, Pickens county! has got it.

Ex-President Taft says he will not accept the presidency of any college or university, because he admits he is not fitted for it. That's what the people thought about that other presidency he failed to land.

By furnishing a judge for the new Thirteenth circuit and a state bank examiner, Pickens has suddenly come into the limelight.—Edgefield Advertiser. We are not much on seeking the limelight, but when it comes to delivering the goods, we're there.

Bertha M. Clay, author of many love stories in book form, is dead. "Her" true name was Thomas W. Henshaw. Which reminds us that Barnum's famous "bearded lady" is also dead, and left a wife and several children!

Uncle Sam's parcel post has put one of the large express companies out of business—the United States Express company—and it is predicted that some of the others will follow when the parcel post reaches a more extended scope.

The Greenville Piedmont wants to abolish the county-to-county system in the coming campaign. Does the Piedmont think for a moment that the "pe-pul" will stand for that? There would be no fun at all, and what is a campaign for, anyway, if not to amuse the voters? What!

Most anyone will stop in front of a store where there is a phonograph at work, just as they will stop to listen to a hand-organ play and see the monkey; but not one person in a dozen will enter that store to make a purchase. An advertisement in a newspaper will bring more customers to a store than all of the phonographs.

"Since the United States Express company has gone out of business there has been much speculation as to what will become of its thousands of employees. A good man will take care of himself; there are just as good jobs in other lines of work as the express company ever offered. Then there's Coxey's army." Jake might "enlist" them.

Columbia State praises the ladies of the King's Daughters for refusing a gift of one hundred dollars from the racing association of Charleston, presumably on the ground that the money was "tainted." Will the capital city accept a gift from Mr. Carnegie for a public library and ask no questions as to the methods the Ironmaster pursued in acquiring the money for the expected gift?

Talk about giving things away, such as libraries, etc., by Carnegie, and endowing colleges by Rockefeller, they are pickers compared with an unknown party who gave last week $500,000—half a million—toward the construction of the Protestant Episcopal church on Mt. St. Stephen in the suburbs of Washington, D. C. Had John D. or even half that sum to do any of the Sunday papers have had miles of rot and ink. As it was, the amount consisted of about $500,000.

"WANTED: A HERO"

WE read the other day an article with this heading. The author felt that heroes were rather few nowadays and that the world was the poorer for the lack of them. Fiddlesticks! That author did not know a real hero when he met him. We know a number of them, their dress plain, their hands calloused, their boots heavy and soiled with mud. Out in the cold and wet they go to their daily tasks. One is ditching every day this winter in unpleasant sticky mud. Another feeds cattle. Another is clearing a piece of new land. Out before day in the chilly morning and toiling hard, the inspiration for this heroism is the same that has appealed to men of red blood for thousands of years. Somewhere, perhaps in his farm home, perhaps in his mind's picture, is a woman; she, too, must be good, true, and worthy of heroism. For her and the little ones the hero labors, suffers, endures cold, wet, weariness, and discouragement. Sometimes his crops fail; sometimes there is a note hard to meet. Yet he works on; he comes home to the woman he loves with a hero's conquering smile.

Here's to him who can work and hope and smile and at temporary defeat take up another hole in his belt and grimly fight on.—Breeders' Gazette.

A Thought for the Week.

How often we flatter ourselves with the delusion that we would be much better if we were only somewhere else and that we would do much better if some other tasks were ours. The place someone else is filling, the work that someone else is doing, looks easy and comfortable compared with our own. But if we would only stop to think one minute we would know that it is distance that makes the difference. If I am not doing good and being good where I am, there isn't one chance in a hundred that I will ever be good anywhere, unless I get to be a different man from what I am now, and that change that will set me at doing my task well may be made now just as well as any time.—Christian Guardian.

Lost Out in Senate, But Not Discouraged

Advocates of woman suffrage declared they were not discouraged because they lost their fight in the senate Thursday for a constitutional amendment giving women voting rights. The senate voted 35 for the amendment to 34 against it, but a two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary for passage.

It was said the suffrage leaders would support the proposed amendment of Senator Shafroth, which he will introduce later. That proposal would require each state to vote on the question of extending suffrage to women upon petition of five per cent of its voters.

Suffrage leaders are proceeding with plans for their demonstration in Washington May 9. It is expected that 10,000 women will take part in the parade.

Secretary of State W. J. Bryan was 54 years old Thursday.

The Southern railway now issues a 1,000 mileage book good for any member of the family of the purchaser, good only on the Southern railway in this state.

Chicora college, Greenville, will be moved to a location on North Main street, where the trustees have bought a tract of land of about 200 acres. The present property will be sold. This action was taken at a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees on Wednesday.

W. R. Smith, a resident of Samson mill village, Greenville, 50 years of age, committed suicide Thursday, according to the coroner's verdict. The top of his head was blown off with a shotgun, which was found in the house. He leaves a wife and six children.

Mr. Jav Robinson, who has been in Atlanta for the past three years, is staying at Norris now looking after his farm near town. He is having a nice cottage erected on it. Mr. Frank Massey has the contract.—Norris cor. in Farm and Factory.

Stomach Health—Or No Cost To You

Very likely others have advised you to use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, because scores of people in this community believe them to be the best remedy ever made for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. That is what we think, too, because we know what they have done for others and what they are made of. We have so much faith in them that we urge you to try them at our risk. If they don't help you, they won't cost you a cent. If they don't do all that you want them to do—if they don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy—just tell us and we will give back your money without a word or question.

Containing Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the inflamed stomach lining, help in the secretion of gastric juice, check heartburn and distress, promote regular bowel action, and make it possible for you to eat whatever you like whenever you like, with the comfortable assurance that there will be no bad after-effects. We believe them to be the best remedy made for dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.—Pickens Drug Co., Pickens, S. C.—Adv.

At Cross Roads Church

Third Sunday in April there will be an all day song service at Cross Roads church. We hope to have good singers with us and we take this method of inviting all the singers in Pickens county and other counties to come and be with us. Rev. J. T. Mann, the blind evangelist, will preach at 11 a. m. Dinner on the ground. D. W. H.

Advertising a Benefit To Our Community

Advertising has a remarkable influence upon a community, and there is a marked difference between a town full of good advertisers and a town where little advertising is done, says an exchange. There is no question that advertising keeps much money in a town that would otherwise go out of it. It brings money from the surrounding towns. It stimulates competition, and competition is the life of trade. It results in better stores and better goods. It makes the newspaper better and more prosperous, which helps to bring money and people to the town.

Speaking of old-fashioned things, what has become of the daily newspaper that used to paste its sheets together?—Pickens Sentinel. Gone on down the road with the man with a red flannel shirt and a barlow knife.—Anderson Mail.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, seven years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the child's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Pickens Drug Co. Pickens S. C.

May Vote on Dispensary in Anderson

A petition is being circulated among the voters of Anderson and Anderson county for the purpose of seeing if the citizens want an election on the dispensary again. As soon as enough of the voters have signed the petition it will be presented to the board of commissioners for approval as to whether or not an election will be called.

The dispensary question was brought up before the citizens of Abbeville last summer and voted upon. The vote against the return of the dispensary, showing that the citizens of Abbeville did not want the dispensary system.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic trouble of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers. Adv.

In Memory of B. P. Mauldin,

Who left this world of sorrow Feb. 16, 1914, and has gone to be with his father and mother in heaven, where they will never part. It was hard to give him up, but God knows best. We miss him so much. May God be with us until we meet him on that happy, golden shore and clasp hands with him, never more to part.

"In the loving arm of Jesus He has gently fallen asleep. Quietly, peacefully he left us. Why, then, should we weep? The parting is not forever—He has only gone before. And will be watching and waiting To welcome us at the door." HIS GRANDSON.

In accordance with the usual custom of the senate, the widow of the late Senator A. O. Bacon of Georgia was voted $7,500, a year's salary, by that body last Thursday.

Eulogy to Dewey Dobson.

February 26 Dewey Dobson passed away to his long abode. He was a bright, energetic young boy of 15 years; and, being quick in making friends, his tragic death is mourned by many. Truly, "In the midst of life we are in death." Sympathizing friends stand loyally by his parents during their bereavement. The following lines are lovingly written to the one we all loved:

"Dust thou art, and to dust returneth." Spoke the preacher long and plain; "Like the grass of the field that withereth, Came in tones of anguish and pain. Thus I sat in the church pew dreaming. While I listened to these words, Barely dreaming of the meaning. As the cause seemed so absurd. He has gone to a land far distant. And with angels made his home; He has left all earthly sorrows. And with Jesus he will roam. But my reverie was broken By that sad, pathetic song. Yet it seemed to me a token Of the life he will live so long. Sweet it sounded to my soul. As the words came passing by: 'Jesus, lover of my soul, Let me to Thy bosom fly.' Thus I sat, my mind at musing. Thinking of this darling boy; Thinking of the days I knew him. When his life seemed all a joy. Oft have I in the schoolroom with him Compared him with the other boys. But there was none of the meaning. That beamed with life and mirthful joys. He was witty and quick in learning. And he was handsome as a god; But now to dust he is returning. 'Neath the cold and pulseless sod. And as I watched him lowered downward Into his lonely, cheerless tomb, I knew his soul was speeding onward To a land of blissful doom. And yet the parting seemed so bitter. Because we all loved him so well; But still a thought comes now to cheer us. He in heaven will ever dwell. And I know not why this sorrow Was allowed to come to hand; Yet I know in the distant morrow We all will understand. Dewey is gone, we know 'tis true. Never more to see us here; But we may join him with the few Assembled there by Christ so dear. Yes, he has gone to a land far distant. And with angels made his home; He has left all earthly sorrows. And in heaven he will roam. F. VAN CLAYTON, Jr.

Spartanburg Gets Pellegra Hospital

The urgent deficiency bill which passed the senate Wednesday carries an appropriation of $47,000 for the establishment of a pellagra hospital at Spartanburg. The bill has already passed the house and will become effective when the President signs the measure.

According to Senator Smith, the hospital is to be supported entirely by the federal government and is to be under the direct supervision of the United States public health service. The institution is intended to accommodate pellagra patients not only in South Carolina, but other nearby states. It is proposed, also, that physicians shall be kept at the hospital to study the disease throughout the south and, if possible, determine just what causes the malady.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. will reopen a telegraph office at Easley soon.
